Russia keeps five warships on combat duty in the Black Sea, including one warship armed with up to four Kalibr cruise missiles.

The Ukrainian Navy announced this on Facebook, Ukrinform reports.

"There are five enemy ships on combat duty in the Black Sea, including a Kalibr cruise missile carrier with up to four missiles, and one enemy ship in the Sea of Azov," the post read.

There are eight enemy warships in the Mediterranean Sea, including two of them armed with up to 24 Kalibr cruise missiles.

Ukrainian Air Force Commander Mykola Oleshchuk earlier said that the pace of Ukraine's counteroffensive would speed up if Ukrainian military aircraft gain air superiority.
